EXPLORE THE WORLD BY WATER

Ocean and River Cruising is a wonderful way to see the world. Take to the open seas and you can discover historic cities, idyllic islands and remote landscapes. Embark on an epic voyage or squeeze in a shorter trip closer to home.

Here at Cruise Dialysis, we love ocean and river cruising for the ease and leisurely pace. You can relax knowing we will take care of all of your holiday arrangements and your onboard dialysis leaving you just to enjoy your wonderful cruise. An experienced dialysis team and nephrologist are onboard each cruise so you can be assured of the best attention at all times.

With so many ships and itineraries to choose from we are sure you will be spoiled for choice. Our team has an in-depth knowledge of cruising and will be happy to answer your questions and recommend a cruise for you. We offer cruises departing from the UK including Dover and Southampton or from ports all over the world.

For the first time we are also offering cruises along the River Douro in Portugal, one of Europe's most photogenic river valleys. Wherever you wish to go there is sure to be a cruise to take you there.

Please read through our brochure, take a look at the cruises on offer and even watch a video or two on our website, www.cruisedialysis.co.uk

Choose and start looking forward to your cruise, safe in the knowledge that your haemodialysis is available onboard.

The Cruise Dialysis Difference

For individuals who require dialysis, cruises offering haemodialysis onboard ensure you can enjoy a relaxing cruise with your loved ones regardless of your medical condition. This is a fantastic way for dialysis patients to visit some of the most beautiful and exotic destinations in the World and experience the luxurious splendour of some of the seas' most celebrated cruise ships.

The dialysis unit onboard a cruise ship has all of the essentials you are familiar with – experienced, fully trained medical professionals including a Nephrologist, Nurses, beds, dialysis machines and a cup of tea!

When you are at home, dialysis usually takes the form of making your way to hospital, either by your own car or hospital transport, dialysing and then making your way home again. This whole process can be exhausting, three times a week, so isn't it time you experienced dialysis in a convenient, new, and exciting place where no travel is required to the dialysis unit?

Dialysis onboard a cruise ship is so easy. It's a quick walk to the dialysis unit and then as soon as your dialysis has finished, you are back on holiday, free to enjoy the wonderful facilities your cruise ship has to offer or to take a shore excursion to somewhere you have always wanted to visit.

On most ships dialysis is arranged around the ports of call as far as possible leaving you time to explore or just enjoy your time relaxing onboard.

The staffing ratios exceed any land-based units with one Registered Nurse to two patients and personalised visits from the onboard Nephrologist during every dialysis session.

A wide variety of food is available almost anytime on cruise ships. Keep your kidney diet in mind while cruising. Ask the servers onboard about different meal options, such as vegetarian dishes or what types of protein-enriched foods they offer.

Book and travel in confidence – in the hands of experienced, fully trained medical professionals. To ensure optimum comfort, the on-board dialysis treatment is designed to mirror your land-based unit. Your requirements are always taken into consideration and strictly adhered to.

Each ship takes between only 4 and 12 patients per cruise therefore we suggest booking as early as possible, to avoid disappointment.

*Lisa Parnell and her team

SANTORINI, GREECE:

There are few travel destinations that combine beautiful beaches, spectacular scenery, ancient cities, amazing restaurants, pretty whitewashed towns, world-famous sunsets and an active volcano! Santorini has all this and more.

Santorini is a Greek island in the middle of the Aegean Sea. In 1450 BC, a volcanic eruption caused the middle of the isle to collapse. It left a steep-edged crater known as a caldera peeping above the waves, which today is a spectacular sight from the island's clifftops.

With its whitewashed houses, blue-domed churches and never-ending vineyards, Santorini is Greece at its traditional best. Thira, the capital, is a popular place to visit – perched on top of the caldera rim overlooking the Aegean.

And the northern town of Oia, also on the caldera, is the best place to see the island's famous sunsets.

“The ultimate highlight of Santorini is its magical sunset. Watch the sun sinking in the horizon while the sky breathes fire and the colourful light washes up the island. No photo can capture the magic of this moment. You'll keep the memories from your Santorini holidays in your heart, forever!”

MS Gil Eanes

Built and christened in 2015, this new-generation ship has ample space throughout for passenger comfort and splendid panoramic windows. The Gil Eanes is a stylish riverboat, cruising along the Douro river, has 66 cabins accommodating only 132 passengers. She offers distinctive and elegant design, with elements mixing the classic with the modern. Add to this the wide variety of facilities, such as the appealing sundeck, perfect for morning coffees onboard, the lounge with panoramic views or the cozy dining room where you can enjoy wonderful delicacies, and your holiday is complete.

“Be carried away by the charm of the Mediterranean countries of Spain and Portugal.”

DOURO RIVER

The best way to explore Portugal and Spain is on a Douro River cruise. Incredible scenery and culture is complimented by the comfortable, convenient, and gourmet on-board experience.

The Douro Valley is home to delicious treasures and will take you along the Port wine route. You will admire this incredible terraced vineyard which extends over a hundred kilometres along the Douro to the Spanish border. From Portugal to Spain, you will visit Porto, a lively and fascinating city where you can taste its famous wine, or Guimarães, the beating heart of Portugal with a remarkable history that gives it today all its charm.

Your ship, the MS Gil Eanes carries only 132 guests and offers splendid panoramic windows. Its elegant taupe, bronze and white tones combine perfectly with the blue shades that conjure up Portuguese tilework.

The Upper and Mid deck cabins have large picture windows and French balconies. The generous windows on the Main Deck provide great views from the privacy of your cabin.

All meals are served in the Main Deck restaurant and onboard fun, music and dancing happens in the lounge and bar on the Mid Deck.

An outdoor area is found near the bow and the sun deck has a pool and sun loungers perfect for relaxing.

PORTS OF CALL:

- ▶ Depart Porto, Portugal – Regua – Vega de Terron – Barca D’Alva – Salamanca – Barca D’Alva – Ferradosa – Pinhao – Porto, Portugal

PORTO, PORTUGAL:

Opening up like a pop-up book from the banks of the Rio Douro, edgy-yet-opulent Porto entices with its historic centre, sumptuous food and wine, and charismatic locals.

Port wine, one of Portugal's most famous exports, is named after Porto, since the metropolitan area, and in particular the cellars of Vila Nova de Gaia, were responsible for the packaging, transport, and export of fortified wine. Port wine is still stored and matured in the vast cellars that stretch along the banks of the Douro River.

Porto, a UNESCO World Heritage Site, is a fascinating and vibrant city that is rapidly becoming one of Western Europe's most respected tourist destinations. The city boasts an extensive history, interesting tourist attractions, a buzzing nightlife, and outstanding tourist facilities. There is a lot to see and do in Porto, from the warren of narrow streets that make up the ancient Ribeira district through to the grand plaza of the Trindade district.

SALAMANCA, SPAIN:

To talk of culture is to talk of Salamanca. Taking a walk through the streets of its historical centre, declared a World Heritage Site by UNESCO, means taking a walk through centuries of history, art and knowledge and experiencing the wonder of landmarks such as its famous University, one of the oldest in Europe, and which today continues to attract thousands of students.

When you enter the monuments of Salamanca, a world of legends and history awaits you. Begin at the famous Plaza Mayor, the meeting point par excellence in the city, with its 88 arches. Be sure not to miss the “new” Romanesque and the old Gothic Cathedrals of Salamanca. The University of Salamanca features a stone frog “hidden” in the façade which is said to bring luck to students, and a fascinating library, akin to a scene from a Harry Potter movie.

NEED DIALYSIS WILL TRAVEL

Shannon Jackson travelled to 40 countries whilst on dialysis.

“Being diagnosed with CKD and being placed on kidney dialysis is a significant challenge for anyone to endure. There is rarely a ‘normal’ day for a dialysis patient. You can accept this as the new norm, or you can move on with your life and make dialysis fit into your daily routine.

I have always liked to travel and when I was placed on dialysis I was almost sure that my travelling days were over. But I wasn’t ready to give up on my travel plans so I did some research on the internet and came across a company in the UK that specialises in arranging dialysis travel. I questioned how any of this could be possible.

I first contacted Lisa Parnell from Cruise Dialysis. I was very surprised to find that Cruise Dialysis offered dialysis travel on large cruise ships, small luxury cruise ships and even riverboats. I had many questions about how this would work: is it safe, who does the dialysis on the ships, would I be able to participate in activities during the cruise?

After many emails back and forth and a few phone calls, I was convinced that I should give this a try. Lisa was able to answer all my questions and assure me that I would be taken care of and I would enjoy the cruise as much as I did before I went on dialysis.

My first cruise was on the Europa2, a small luxury cruise ship. After we arrived on the ship, the nephrologist met me in my cabin to discuss my medical needs and plan my dialysis sessions. I was amazed to learn that all the dialysis sessions on this ship were planned around my shore excursions and daily activities. I assumed that I was going to miss many of the activities because of the dialysis schedule. I was one of three dialysis patients on this cruise and we were taken care of by one nephrologist and one nurse. I was very surprised at the wonderful level of care I was given. At the end of my three week cruise, I have to say that I received amazing care on the ship and I had the opportunity to participate in every shore excursion that I selected.

One of my next dialysis cruises was on a 14 night riverboat trip on the Danube. By this trip, I felt comfortable with the dialysis plan, so I was ready to just enjoy myself. This trip was very relaxing and I made friends with the other dialysis patients.

We had a common bond and immediately began talking about our kidney issues. While the other passengers were trying to make friends with their fellow passengers, I was already enjoying the company of my fellow dialysis passengers. I received excellent care from the nephrologist and the nurse. It was evident that they enjoyed providing this type of service and they went out of their way to accommodate us.

Over six years, I travelled on ten cruises on the Europa2, two riverboat cruises and one large ship cruise, all while I was on dialysis.

I found that using Cruise Dialysis made travel very easy. The most difficult part of the process was picking which ship I wanted to travel on and what countries I wanted to visit. Once those decisions were made, Lisa guided me through the rest of the process and managed all the details. I discussed my plans with my home dialysis centre and my nephrologist. I completed the required medical questionnaire and the routine laboratory tests.

To give you an example of what is possible while on dialysis, I travelled to Vietnam and South East Asia. I travelled to South Africa and was even able to go on a two-and-a-half-day safari.

For those of you who are still concerned about your first trip while on dialysis, Cruise Dialysis offers several cruises each year where Lisa accompanies a group of new dialysis travellers on their first cruise. This is a wonderful service for someone who is still concerned about taking their first dialysis trip or someone who is new to travelling on a cruise ship. My parting words are, ‘don’t let kidney dialysis control your life.’”

“I have to say that I received amazing care on the ship and I had the opportunity to participate in every shore excursion that I selected.”

Our Celestyal Cruise

ECLECTIC AEGEAN CRUISE REVIEW BY MIKE & PAM PITCHER

"This was the second time we have booked through Cruise Dialysis (we previously took a river cruise, see photo) and, as before, the on-board treatment and service provided were excellent and Lisa was with us ensuring that all went well. Mike was one of nine passengers requiring dialysis during the week and every effort was made to ensure that the sessions did not conflict where possible with on-shore tours. This was all explained in the briefing meeting just as soon as the life boat drill had been completed after setting sail for Istanbul.

We had chosen a class of suite (called a stateroom which is probably American for a cabin) with concierge service as we were travelling with a wheelchair and needed extra space and help as necessary. On two occasions when Mike was dialysing over a mealtime, Marvin our concierge provided a personal breakfast and dinner service to his bedside.

OUR 7 NIGHTS CRUISE AND TRIPS INCLUDED:

- ▶ An overnight stay and day in Istanbul with a boat trip and a tour of Sultan Ahmed Square, the Blue Mosque and Hagia Sophia
- ▶ Day in Çanakkale with a visit to Troy and its museum
- ▶ Tour of the Palace of Knossos in Crete
- ▶ Visit to Santorini where the ship moored in the caldera of the super active volcano
- ▶ Evening stay in Mykonos with a stroll along the sea front

MIKE & PAM IN RAINY SPEYER DURING THEIR PREVIOUS RIVER CRUISE

The dialysis suite was located on the 4th deck with two adjacent cabins with beds and machines for three people to dialyse at the same time. The medical staff included a senior consultant nephrologist, charge nurse and four dialysis nurses.

At the briefing meeting with the dialysis team, medical records were discussed and a rota agreed for which sessions each patient should attend.

There were no pre-set dining arrangements. We could choose between two restaurants, buffet, speciality restaurant and BBQs on the open deck. The cuisine was excellent and service friendly. We had an all included drinks package however Mike, being on HD, rather missed out!

We would recommend the accompanied holidays in particular for people cruising for the first time as they provide that extra reassurance that everything will run smoothly.

We enjoyed our week and were relieved that the Santorini volcano remained calm during our visit!"
